You did it!

Nearly there!

Keep reading - you're so close to your fundraising total.

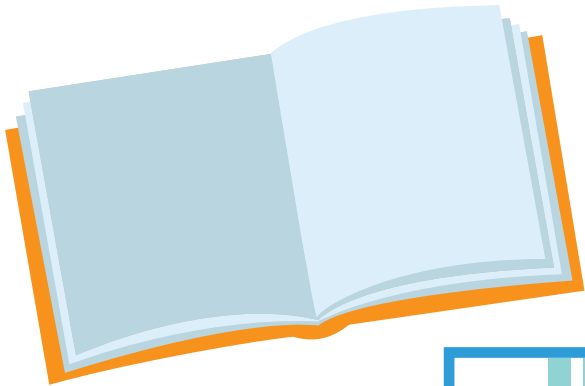

The power of your pages!

Did you know every time you read a book as part of Gromit's Grand Readathon you're helping sick children at Bristol Children's Hospital?

Keep going!

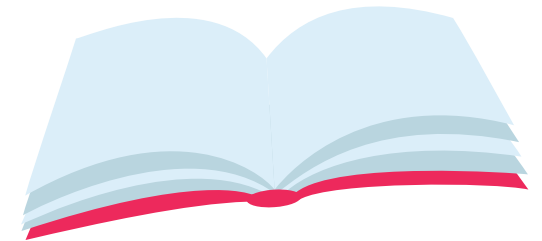

Thanks to your fundraising
The Grand Appeal can give sick children toys and activities to make them feel better when they are in hospital.

A large graphic consisting of several horizontal rectangular boxes of varying lengths and positions, all outlined in blue. The boxes are arranged in a staggered, descending pattern from top to bottom. Some boxes have vertical teal lines near their ends, and others have double teal lines. The boxes are intended for text or images.

Well done!

Your donations mean a poorly child's parents can stay close to them while they get better in hospital.
